BOXERMAN RECEIVES FINRA ARBITRATOR CERTIFICATION

Posted on June 26, 2019 by Sanford J. Boxerman

Category: Leadership
Tag: Sandy Boxerman

Sanford J. Boxerman recently completed all components of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority's (FINRA) mandatory Basic Arbitrator Training program and joined the ranks of FINRA's arbitrators, a group of dedicated individuals serving the investing public and the securities industry.

"I had heard the FINRA was looking for arbitrators. The idea of serving in a quasi-judicial role has always appealed to me, and several colleagues have told me I'd be good at it," said Sanford. "I investigated it further and the more I learned the more interested I became. So, I completed the application process, passed the tests and was informed that I had qualified."

FINRA Arbitrators

FINRA arbitrators are highly engaged, dynamic individuals who collaborate to aid their communities and enhance their professional lives by resolving securities-related disputes. FINRA operates the largest securities dispute resolution forum in the United States, and has extensive experience in providing a fair, efficient and effective venue to handle a securities-related dispute.

FINRA

The Financial Industry Regulatory Authority is the largest independent, non-governmental regulator

The choice of a lawyer is an important decision and should not be based solely upon advertisements.

for all securities firms doing business with the public in the United States.

For additional information about FINRA, please click here.

The choice of a lawyer is an important decision and should not be based solely upon advertisements.