Capes Sokol is honored to be recognized as a finalist in the St. Louis Business Journal's 2025 Best Places to Work awards. This annual program highlights companies that excel in workplace culture, employee satisfaction, and overall work environment.

More than 150 companies were nominated for this year's awards, and Capes Sokol is among the 80 finalists. The firm is competing in the Medium Category (50–99 employees) alongside 20 other outstanding regional companies. The winners will be announced in a special awards section published on May 16, 2025.

Best Places to Work for Awards

The St. Louis Business Journal's Best Places to Work awards are based on employee surveys conducted by Quantum Workplace, a third-party research firm. The surveys evaluate key workplace factors, including communication, management, benefits, and teamwork. Companies are then
