CAPES SOKOL WELCOMES MEGAN K. D. WAKHISI TO THE FIRM

Posted on November 13, 2023 by Capes Sokol

Category: Firm News
Tags: Capes Sokol, Intellectual Property, IP, STL

Capes Sokol is pleased to announce the latest addition to our firm: Megan K. D. Wakhisi. Megan joins the firm as an IP Project Specialist as part of our Intellectual Property practice group. Megan brings a wealth of experience and expertise, enhancing the breadth and quality of legal services offered by our firm.

> "I'm so excited to have Megan join us at Capes Sokol," said Capes Sokol counsel and member of the Firm's Intellectual Property group, Gary Pierson. "Many of my clients and colleagues worked with her at our previous firm and will remember her incredible service to clients, sharp eye for detail and diverse set of skills and experience. She's been integral to my practice for years, and we are very fortunate to have her here serving our clients at Capes Sokol."

Megan's skill set allows her to add value in a variety of contexts, including the preparation of a variety of legal agreements, IP litigation matters, and the management of international intellectual property portfolios.

Although not currently licensed as an attorney in Missouri, Megan earned her Juris Doctor from New

The choice of a lawyer is an important decision and should not be based solely upon advertisements.

York Law School in 2013 after completing a dual Bachelor of Arts degree in U.S. History and Criminal Justice from Lees McRae College in 2010.

Learn more information about Capes Sokol and their Intellectual Property practice group here.

The choice of a lawyer is an important decision and should not be based solely upon advertisements.