

SARACHAN TO PRESENT AT MANUFACTURING LAW SEMINAR

Posted on June 14, 2017 by Gary R. Sarachan

Category: Presentations

Tag: Gary Sarachan

On June 16, 2017, Gary R. Sarachan will present in front of accountants, attorneys, manufacturing owners, and paralegals at a continuing legal education seminar entitled, "Manufacturing Law: A Legal and Tax Compliance Guide".

At the seminar, Gary will present the section entitled: "Ethics". The full day seminar will provide attendees with the fundamental knowledge needed to help manufacturers save money, time and reduce liability.

Manufacturing Law: A Legal and Tax Compliance Guide

Program Description:

Do you have a firm grasp of the legalities unique to manufacturing businesses? In this complete guide, experienced faculty will teach you how to guide your manufacturing clients through the industry's business aspects and navigate the maze of state and federal tax compliance, labor and employment obstacles and so much more! They will also cover intellectual property protection and an array of manufacturing contracts like distribution and supply agreements.

For additional information, please visit the Seminar Registration page.

The choice of a lawyer is an important decision and should not be based solely upon advertisements.