

DOVE & SCHWERIN TO PRESENT AT FRAUD & FORENSIC ACCOUNTING CONFERENCE

Posted on October 21, 2021 by Michelle F. Schwerin

Category: Presentations

Tags: Doug Dove, Michelle Schwerin

On Thursday, October 21, 2021, Douglas S. Dove and Michelle F. Schwerin will present at the 2021 Missouri Society of Certified Public Accountants ("MOCPA") Fraud & Forensic Accounting Conference.

Their session, "All Too Common: A Fraud Investigation Case Study," will dive into a real-life example of a forensic investigation, from discovery and identification of the fraud, through conducting the investigation and presenting the case to federal prosecutors and cooperating with them to help obtain the conviction and imprisonment of the perpetrator.

This virtual event attracts CFOs, controllers, forensic accounting and financial professionals.

2021 Fraud & Forensic Accounting Conference Overview

As those who commit fraud become increasingly sophisticated, it's important to understand the complex nature of the threats you face in today's business environment. Discover the tools, resources, and information you need to protect your clients and organizations at the Fraud & Forensic Accounting Conference. Engage with expert speakers for best practices,

The choice of a lawyer is an important decision and should not be based solely upon advertisements.

For additional information about the conference, please visit: 2021 Fraud & Forensic Accounting Conference

The choice of a lawyer is an important decision and should not be based solely upon advertisements.