The Financial Crimes Enforcement Network \(FinCEN\) – the agency responsible for implementing new requirements imposed by the Corporate Transparency Act of 2021 – has announced a change to the deadlines for the reporting of information by companies formed in 2024. Under the rule, as initially announced, those companies would have had 30 days from their creation or registration to submit the beneficial ownership information (BOI) required under the Act. On September 28, 2023, the Treasury published a notice of proposed rulemaking that would amend that time period to 90 days, and today announced that the rule would in fact be finalized with the longer time period.

With this change, companies formed from January 1, 2024 through December 31, 2024 will now have more time to gather and submit the required information about their beneficial owners. Companies formed before January 1, 2024 will still have all of calendar year 2024 to submit their required BOI to FinCEN.
