

KAHN TO INTERVIEW IRISH LEGAL THRILLER AUTHOR STEVE CAVANAGH

Posted on February 27, 2018 by Michael A. Kahn

Category: Presentations

Tag: Michael A. Kahn

On March 1st, Michael A. Kahn, Capes Sokol attorney and award-winning author, will interview best-selling author Steve Cavanagh at a Meet Me Saint Louis program.

The event, sponsored by The Bar Association of Metropolitan St. Louis, is entitled, "SO YOU WANT TO BE AN AUTHOR?" and will discuss Steve Cavanagh's latest legal thriller is THE PLEA. In his "day job," Mr. Cavanagh is an acclaimed Irish civil rights lawyer.

Meet Me Saint Louis is a non-for-profit speaker series presenting entertaining and educational speakers and authors in on-stage interviews and unique presentations. A portion of ticket sales from each event is donated to area non-profit groups/causes and/or research projects, while also giving voice to speakers' national causes and foundations.

So You Want to be an Author?

Program Description:

Take THE PLEA with Irish Civil Rights lawyer & best-selling author Steve Cavanagh, in conversation with St. Louis author and lawyer Michael A. Kahn talking about Cavanagh's newly published book, THE PLEA. Share the path he took getting published; his ideas for incorporating the law and courtroom into his writing; stories of his most controversial courtroom cases, and legal practices in the U.K. Cavanagh and Kahn will also share their experiences writing legal thrillers as practicing lawyers and balancing careers and writing.

For Additional information about the event, please visit the BAMSL event page.

The choice of a lawyer is an important decision and should not be based solely upon advertisements.