NEILL & BOXERMAN TO PRESENT AT THE ABA'S 2016 NATIONAL INSTITUTE ON CRIMINAL TAX FRAUD

Posted on December 5, 2016 by Sara G. Neill

Category: Presentations
Tags: Sandy Boxerman, Sara Neill

Over three days in December, Sara G. Neill and Sanford J. Boxerman will present at the American Bar Association's 33rd Annual National Institute on Criminal Tax Fraud and the Sixth Annual National Institute on Tax Controversy.

This annual event, presented by the American Bar Association Taxation and Criminal Justice Sections, brings together national practitioners engaged in all aspects of tax controversy, tax litigation, and criminal tax prosecutions and defense. Attendees and presenters include high-level government representatives, judges, corporate counsel, and private practitioners.

On Thursday, December 8, 2016, Sanford J. Boxerman, Chair of the firm's White Collar Criminal Defense and Internal Investigations practice, will participate in an "IRS CI Roundtable". This roundtable will discuss top priorities and future challenges in criminal tax enforcement.

On Friday, December 9, 2016, Sara G. Neill, a member of the 2016 Institute Planning Committee, will moderate a panel entitled: "Addressing Employment Tax Issues in Sensitive Examinations". This panel will discuss how to address employment tax issues when they first arise in a civil examination, and how to keep things civil.

For additional information, please visit the: 33rd Annual National Institute on Criminal Tax Fraud and the Sixth Annual National Institute on Tax Controversy Agenda

The choice of a lawyer is an important decision and should not be based solely upon advertisements.