Legalities of Content Creation

Program Description:

Content creators have more platforms than ever before to share their creativity, and it's also never been easier for potential infringers to steal others' creative works. But Copyright law and contracts still govern, and the new Copyright Claims Board established by the CASE Act of 2020 provides a new tool for enforcement (and an additional risk if you're not careful)!

The choice of a lawyer is an important decision and should not be based solely upon advertisements.
