

SCHWERIN TO PRESENT “FORENSIC ACCOUNTING 101 FOR ATTORNEYS”

Posted on September 27, 2016 by Michelle F. Schwerin

Category: Presentations

Tag: Michelle Schwerin

On September 28, 2016, Michelle F. Schwerin will present in front of accountants, business directors and executives, and paralegals at a continuing legal education seminar “Forensic Accounting 101 for Attorneys”.

At the seminar, presented by the National Business Institute, Michelle will present the section entitled: “Savvy Ways to Locate Hidden Assets, Interests and Income (with Real-World Examples)”. The full day seminar will provide attendees with a practical understanding of financial statements, business valuations, accounting terms, and investigation skills for attorneys.

The choice of a lawyer is an important decision and should not be based solely upon advertisements.

Forensic Accounting 101 for Attorneys*Presentation Description:

Hiring a forensic accountant to assist you with interpreting financial data is not always feasible (or practical). That's when being able to artfully examine, investigate and communicate financial information as an attorney becomes crucial. Whether you're reviewing financial statements, business valuations, tax returns or calculating damages; identifying potential areas of concern is essential to ensuring your client's best interests.

For additional information about the live seminar, please visit the "Forensic Accounting 101 for Attorneys" event page.

The choice of a lawyer is an important decision and should not be based solely upon advertisements.